

Safety Specialist IV

UT Southwestern Medical Center
Dallas, Texas

Join us as a Safety Specialist IV in our Environmental Health and Safety department at UT Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas. Here you will be part of an exceptional organization where education, research and medical care come together. As our Safety Specialist you will coordinate and supervise activities to achieve and maintain compliance with regulatory requirements and institutional policies for hazardous materials and agents. You will also use data collected from previous inspections to develop recommended procedures and control methods to correct deficiencies. The department will rely on you to assist in developing training programs for training sessions that you will conduct for employees at all levels.

Job Requirements

Requires an Associate degree in a safety related field plus 8 years of directly related safety experience, including 3 years supervisory experience. Must have training in nuclear or radioactive materials. Prefer professional certification pertinent to specific safety specialty. A Bachelor's degree may be substituted for 1 year of experience. A Master's degree may be substituted for 2 years of experience. Pertinent Military experience may be considered for some of the required experience.

Company Overview

UT Southwestern is one of the world's leading academic medical centers, with 13 specialties earning national recognition from U.S. News & World Report for 2013–14. We employ world-class medical and scientific faculty, including 5 Nobel Laureates, 20 faculty members of the prestigious National Academy of Sciences' Institute of Medicine (IOM) and 20 members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. We transform lives and careers through the convergence of world-class medical education, medical research and patient care. It is this unique environment that allows us to stay at the forefront of medical discovery. Our dynamic team, including some of the world's leading physicians, researchers and clinical professionals, embrace innovation to improve outcomes for even the most challenging cases. We are the future of medicine, today.

UT Southwestern is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women, minorities, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Response Information

Apply online today at utsouthwestern.edu/careers.